Lesson 31: Quiz 1 - Writing on Demand

Directions: Give yourself five minutes to complete this task. Read and respond to the following topic below. Use the guide discussed in the lesson to help you write a brainstorm list, w/h questions, and/or interview questions.

How we use the writing process when we write on demand:
- The topic, or prompt is given to you. Make sure you understand what you are being asked to do (PART A Prewriting).
- Gather information as you have done before (PART B Prewriting).
- Organize your information (PART C Prewriting).
- Make sure your main idea answers the prompt (PART C Prewriting).
- Write a topic sentence.
- Prepare a first draft.

READY, SET, GO!

The First Time - Everyone remembers the first time they entered school, or rode a bike, or went to the hospital. Write an essay/paragraph about the first time you, or someone you know, did something interesting or memorable.

Use this box for a brainstorming list.

Use this box for W/H questions or interview questions.

1. Did this exercise take you longer than five minutes?

2. How long did it take you to complete?

3. What part took the most time?
